LF Logistics Thailand has always paved the way in coming up with exciting and innovative ways to engage their colleagues. If you are in one of those offices that don’t have an exciting local marathon or charity run nearby, take a cue from our LF Logistics Thailand colleagues in Bangpa-in who organized their own in-house myRun!

This spring, the LF Logistics Thailand team hosted a myRun and Sports Day on a sunny Sunday on April 27th, as part of their ongoing health and wellness program for colleagues. Held in the Valaya Alongkorn Rajabhat University in Ayudhaya, the myRun took place at 7am with 105 colleagues participating in either a 2.4km or 4km race. The top 3 fastest runners were awarded prizes in each category.
But the day wasn’t over yet, with the myRun race followed by a Sports Day in the same venue. Over 700 colleagues split into teams of 4 to fight it out in some friendly team sports such as futsal, chair ball, tug of war, cheerleading and a flag race. The event wrapped up by 4pm and colleagues were all smiles not only because of the adrenaline rush, but also because they got an opportunity to meet outside the workplace and connect over fun games. Due to the success of the myRun and Sports Day, the team has promised their colleagues a rematch next year!
In keeping with the theme of engagement and knowledge sharing the LF Logistics Thailand team also organized a town hall at the Louis Tavern hotel in Bangkok on May 9th. After an opening speech by Noel Bautista – Executive Director, Head of ASEAN, Russell Winyard – EVP of Hub Operations gave an overview of Li & Fung’s 2014-2016 3-year plan. Janya Thana-athiporn – EVP, Head of Thailand followed with an update for colleagues on LF Logistics Thailand’s plan over the coming years.

27 colleagues were also recipients of the Long Service Awards at the occasion, receiving a token of appreciation for either 5, 10, 15 or 20 years of dedication to the company. This year our colleagues also did something extra special by hosting the Presentation of Scholarships, in which 15 of our colleagues’ children with a GPA over 2.75 received awards for their scholastic achievements from Noel and Janya. The evening concluded with wonderful musical presentations and dinner.

Congratulations to LF Logistics Thailand for organizing such great initiatives!
